Test/application

- Create a non-traditional test. Game?
- Game style so it doesn't feel like a test to user
- Following the test a follow up video is displayed for user to watch to understand the type of colorblindness if detected
- Easy to use platform for all ages
- Question count to show tester the amount of questions remaining

Problems

- create an interesting test, so it doesn't feel like a test and more like a game
- Getting district approval for testing
- Maintaining student interest/attention
- how to Test for various types of CB
- Ways to manage color blindness if color blindness is detected

Questions

- What is the success criteria?
- What data can we gather beyond pass or fail?
- How are students prepared for the survey/ what do they get after?
- are there any laws revolving around testing for colorblindness

Features

- Data compiled into spreadsheet for school nurses.
- Audio guide while testing
- A timer that is hidden from the user, but is given to the proctor to show the amount of time taken on each
- A scale to show the level and severity of color blindness if detected
- Differentiate based on age.
- Following up with users after the test to get feedback